

Unity Celebration and Shared Worship

Today, 10am in the Sanctuary

We will be celebrating unity and sharing worship with Brooklyn United Methodist Church to prepare our hearts for the Special Session of the General Conference in St. Louis. As we celebrate being a diverse and vital church that is ready to face the future with faith, we'll take time to bless our Minnesota delegates, pray for the Special Session, and receive a message from Rev. Rich Zeck (Pastor, BUMC): "In Between Us." Members of the Twin Cities Gay Men's Chorus and Chamber Singers will inspire us with their presence and song, and the Sanctuary Choirs of both congregations will combine to minister side by side. Invite your family and friends. Brunch will be served in the Social Hall following worship.

Copper Street Brass: Tools of the Trade

Today, 1pm in the Sanctuary

The musicians in the Copper Street Brass ensemble use tools called "Brass Instruments" to build songs. During the presentation we'll meet each brass instrument, learn its name and job, and hear how it is used as a tool to build songs made of musical building blocks like melody, harmony, and rhythm. Be ready to move and sing along to your favorite songs with CSB! This family-friendly concert is free and open to all.

Salon se Lève

Today, 2:30pm in the Art Gallery

Showcasing the national award winning pianist Shuen Wu, and in her debut appearance for Salon se Lève, the violinist Catherine Carson. This concert is free and all are welcome.

Final Call for Lent Devotional Submissions

Throughout Lent, the congregation will reflect on feeling immersed in and sustained by a "Wellspring of Hope." Each week has a question to ponder: Where/when/how do you feel... Well-loved? We'll-guarded? Well-tended? Well-received? Well-prepared? Please write an original reflection, poem, or prayer of 250 words or less responding to one of these hopeful questions. Due Monday, February 18 at noon to communications@haumc.org.
